CENTRAL OHIO NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

Box 1561, Dublin, OH 43017

November 15, 2025

When: 7 p.m., Nov. 19

Where: Oakstone Academy
900 Club Dr., Westerville

Speaker: Steve Petty & Gerry Tebben

Topic: Coin Glass & Stories

November meeting

This month is a twofer.

Steve will talk on the Central Glass Company, Wheeling, WV – 1892 – Production of Coin Glass. They produced these products for under a year until they were shut down by the treasury. Most of the production was destroyed – rail car loads – after the U.S. Treasury said the glass was counterfeiting coins. Problem free (no cracks or chips) are difficult to locate and some pieces are rarer than others. - Steve

I'll tell a few stories. At base we collect coins because of the stories they tell. Sometimes the story is about how we acquired a piece; other times is about the piece itself. I'll be telling stories about the Lincoln cent - war, prejudice, politics - and a few other coins, including one that celebrated a murder. -- Gerry

Bob Evans, of S.S. Central America note, can't be with us this month, but plans to address us in March.

Christmas banquet

When: Dec. 3 (5:30 pm cash bar, 7pm dinner)

Where: Heritage Golf Club, Hilliard

October meeting

John Barsamian spoke about the 1909-S VDB Lincoln cent. He stressed that it is a much- desired coin by collectors, but that it is not rare compared to other coins, even though it can be expensive in higher grades, and that a rare coin doesn't necessarily have to be expensive. Some coins, he pointed out, are often expensive even though they may not be rare at all. He stressed that in coin collecting you should buy a coin you like...no need to focus on the "mainstream." - Chris

Update our kid stuff

I'll be making a proposal at the BOD and the monthly meeting to ask for $300 - $600 for Diane's Table for funding of supplies. Some of our giveaway folders were printed up to 20 years prior to the birth of the NEWmismatists we encounter. I'm asking for your money and support.

We need new Red Books, Whitman folders that are current to the circulating coins of today, loupes, lanyards and other tools for collecting.

The prices and other suggested items to consider will be available by meeting time. --- Dan Carroll
